[illegible]&H, district reach compromise

BY RICHARD MEEK

[illegible] compromise reached between [illegible] Hancock County [illegible] district and the county [illegible] Harbor Commission [illegible] for a new middle school to be built adjacent to Hancock High School and still [illegible] room for future expansion [illegible] nearby Stennis International Airport.

The final details of the interlocal agreement were hammered out during a Port & Harbor meeting Monday that was also attended by school superintendent Terry Randolph, school board attorney Steve Benvenutti and supervisor Joey Ladner.

The agreement, which has not yet been ratified by the school board, calls for the supervisors, the P&H and the school district to each pay one-third of the cost of constructing an access road to the new middle school site.

The P&H's share cannot exceed $50,000 and is contingent upon the Commission obtaining adjacent property through eminent domain pro[illegible] are now in [illegible].

Both parties have been attempting to obtain the site, owned by the heirs of Vic Riccobono through eminent domain proceedings. If a compromise had not been worked out, the state Supreme Court would have eventually settled the matter, but no one could say how long that might take.

High speed chase ends with arrest

BY RICHARD MEEK

A Louisiana teenager, who led officers on a high speed chase in Louisiana and Mississippi, is facing at least one federal charge following his arrest Tuesday morning.

Paul Williams, 19, of Hammond La. was charged with armed robbery and may be charged with transporting stolen property across state lines, an FBI spokesperson said. Williams was initially taken to the Hancock County Justice Facility on Tuesday morning, but the FBI later transferred him to Harrison County.

Hancock County Sheriff Chief Deputy Nathan Hoda said Williams walked into Hancock Bank in Kiln shortly before 10 a.m. Tuesday waving a weapon and demanding money. Williams, according to Hoda, jumped over the bank counter and stole over [illegible]

He fled in a blue Cadillac that had been allegedly stolen in Hammond earlier in the morning. Hoda said Williams drove north on Highway 603, where he was spotted by a state trooper. Williams eventually traveled on Highway 43 to Interstate 59, Hoda said.

At one point, Hoda said Williams was driving on the wrong side of the interstate. Speeds during the chase reached in excess of 100 miles per hour, Hoda said.

Williams drove into the Slidell area, and then headed east on Interstate 10 and drove back into Hancock County, Hoda said. He was forced off the road and into a ditch by a state trooper at the five-mile marker on the interstate and attempted to flee on foot into the woods, where he was quickly apprehended, Hoda said.

The stolen money was still on

Possible landfill sites discussed

BY ED LEPOMA

The search for a landfill in the giant buffer zone surrounding the Stennis Space Center is on the front burner again.

At last week's regular monthly meeting, the Hancock County Solid Waste District decided on three alternatives for finding a long-term solution to Hancock County's future solid waste disposal plans, which has eluded political leaders for almost two years.

District Chairman Mayor Eddie Favre of Bay St. Louis revealed that attempts to re-open negotiations with Prutimber officials who have land in the buffer zone that supervisors originally tried to purchase were "short-circuited."

He said Prutimber officials told him that the tract of land was "under option," so there was no need to negotiate with the District.

The Echo has learned that the firm that has the tract under option is a father-daughter team that originally made a pitch to the District to operate and build a sanitary landfill on another tract it had optioned in the buffer zone.

The firm, Trash Hunters of America, doing business as Mississippi Waste of Hancock County, operates several landfills in Mississippi, and is headed by principals Benett York and daughter, Paige.

The Yorks did not return several phone calls when the Echo sought more information.

Another option discussed is for the District to solicit invitations from any other property [illegible]

[illegible] officials still upbeat [illegible] setback from Corps

Pat Robbins, chief of Public Relations for the Corps office in Mobile, was asked to comment following an [illegible] Friday by Col. William S. Vogel, district engineer for the Mobile area.

Vogel said after being informed by developers that there are no immediate plans to begin [illegible], "I find the public interest would best be served by an immediate suspension of the permit so that the cumulative and indirect impacts (on the Bay of St. Louis) may be further considered and assessed."

Robbins said there was no immediate need for engineers to come out to the proposed site that is on the north Bay of St. Louis in Harrison County south of the Kiln-Delisle exit of Interstate 10.

"The review started as soon as he (Vogel) issued the suspension," said Robbins. "There's no need for on-site evaluation at this time. It merely involves reviewing the data that has been submitted within the application process."

Asked whether the review could tie up the project for a year or more, and jeopardize venturing capital, Robbins said, "There is no length of time on it, but I don't think it will take long." He would not be specific on the amount of time the review might take.

News of the suspension and the review of the permit was greeted with glee by citizens groups and environmentalists who have been fighting both the Circus Circus project and the Casino World Project, also planned on the north Bay of St. Louis, but off the south Diamondhead exit in Hancock County.

"By suspending the permits, the Mobile office has made a big step in the right direction," said Nonnie DeBardeleben, a member of the non-profit Concerned Citizens to Protect the Isles and [illegible] organization.

"Wetlands are irreplaceable and important because they filter pollution out of waterways and provide habitat for wildlife. We cannot trade our precious Mississippi wetlands for casino chips," DeBardeleben added.

James L. Robertson, a Jackson-based attorney for Circus Circus, said he was not really concerned by the Army Corps change of heart, but he didn't feel at liberty to comment any further.

Robertson and Robbins both said the decision by the Corps to review the permits would in no way affect suits filed by developers and opponents of the project. Those will continue to wind their way through the individual courts, they said.

Robertson, a former state Supreme Court Justice, has filed suit in U.S. District Court in Hattiesburg, asking that court to rule that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers took the proper action when it issued the project its permit for dredging. Although he asked for a speedy trial and injunctive relief against opponents, Robertson said no hearing date has been set on his suit.

Circus Circus, in association with Pine Hills Development Partnership, Inc., received Corps of Engineers approval last September to forge ahead with the $300 million casino gambling resort.

Besides the gambling barge in the Bay, developers propose to build a 1,400-room, 30-story hotel and related retail shops, a five-story parking garage and a 700-foot pier.

Four arrested on drug charges

BY RICHARD MEEK

Four people were recently arrested on drug charges in Hancock County [illegible].

On Feb. 3, Maurigio Gonzalez, 28, of McAllen, Texas, was arrested and charged with felony possession with intent to distribute, said Shane Corr, director of the Hancock County Narcotics Task Force.

Corr said Lt. Tim Broder of the Hancock County Sheriff's office stopped Gonzales at 2:30 a.m. on Interstate 10 for careless driving. An inspection of the vehicle turned up 20 pounds of marijuana, with a street value of $18,000, and one gram of cocaine.

Gonzalez is being held in the Hancock County Justice Facility on $105,000 bond.

On Feb. 4, Kermit Rush, 34, of Bay St. Louis, was charged with possession of a controlled substance, Corr said.

Corr said Deputy Ray Ballard of the HCSO responded to a domestic dispute on Catalina Street in Bayside Park. Ballard discovered one Vicadin pill on Rush.

He is being held in the Hancock County Justice Facility.

A Bay St. Louis man is being held without bond following his arrest on drug and other charges in Waveland last Friday.

Matthew Davis, 27, whose address is listed as 4146 21st St. in Bay St. Louis, is charged with felony possession of marijuana with intent to distribute, speeding, resisting arrest and carrying a concealed weapon, Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell said.

Varnell said Davis was stopped at approximately 11:30 a.m. last Friday for speeding on Beach Boulevard in front of Buccaneer Park. He said the suspect "was very nervous acting," and upon searching the individual, the officers found a loaded .22 caliber handgun in Davis' front pocket.

An inspection of the automobile turned up marijuana on the passenger seat. When advised of his arrest, Varnell said Davis fled on foot into the nearby woods, where he was quickly apprehended.

Further investigation of the vehicle turned up a large amount of marijuana in a black case on the floorboard. Davis was already on probation for sale of a controlled substance.

Davis' initial court appearance is scheduled for today.

On Saturday, a routine traffic stop led to the arrest of Teresa Baker, 30, of Hamilton, Ohio.

Corr said Corporal Paul Denham of the Bay St. Louis Police Department stopped Baker at 4:14 p.m. on Highway 90 for improper lane usage. Denham's investigation of the vehicle led to the seizure of six grams of cocaine, LSD, less than one ounce of marijuana and pills of undetermined nature.

Baker was charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute.

She was released on $20,000 bond.

Explosive device found in Bay car

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

An explosive device was found in a vehicle by a Bay St. Louis [illegible] during a routine traffic stop on Saturday.

Bay Investigator Lt. Tom Burleson said Patrolman Paul Denham made a routine traffic stop, and consent for a search was given by the driver of the vehicle. An explosive device was found in the vehicle. Upon speaking to the driver, she stated her son had placed it in the vehicle.

Robert K. Hansen, Jr., 17, 114 Chartres St., Bay St. Louis was arrested and charged with possession of explosives. [illegible] bond was set at $5,000, Burleson said.

Burleson said if convicted, Hansen could receive a five-year sentence and or a $10,000 fine.

Hansen was lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility Monday.

PRCC president listed in stable condition

Pearl River Community College President Ted Alexander remains in Forrest General Hospital, Hattiesburg, after suffering injuries in a one-car accident [illegible] near the PRCC Poplarville campus.

Alexander was listed in good condition Friday, however he was rushed into an intensive care unit that night with internal bleeding, which led to hemorrhagic shock.

"Dr. Alexander was moved back into a private room Sunday night and is listed in stable condition," said Larry Stanford, PRCC spokesman. "He was still experiencing a lot of pain Tuesday morning and the chest tube to his lung remains for drainage."

Doctors have not set a release date for Dr. Alexander.

There are bicycles, wagons, carts, baby buggies, all types of vehicles which need to be peddled or pushed.

The parade begins at North Bay Elementary and proceeds down Dunbar Avenue to Boardman for one block and then to Leonhard Avenue, Leonhard to Dunbar and returns to disband at the school.

Captain Lisa Cowand has worked very had once again to organize what should be a very fine kids parade.

We hope to see you at the parade Sunday.

Last Thursday, Randy Ponder and I attended a Laugh in Luncheon [illegible] Milton Berle at Torgey's on the Green in Bay St. Louis.

There were about a dozen of us, which included several from Casino Magic's entertainment department. What was scheduled to be a one-hour event actually turned into three hours.

For someone who will be 90 in July, Uncle Miltie was a constant talker. Just think, he started out as a model when [illegible] light.

One of the most interesting things Berle told us was that he was making six figures a year in Las Vegas during the 1940s. I wonder how many millions that would be in today's money.

Like many of those my age, I can remember Berle when television came to our area and how we all thought he was so funny.

His shows were the ones we would not miss each week on that old small black-and-white television set which required a very powerful antenna.

On Friday night, we attended Berle's show at the Magic, which was very entertaining.

It was good to hear him talk and refer to some of the many comics he has worked with over the years.

At the Magic I noticed a lot of folks about my age who remembered Uncle Miltie as a pioneer in television entertainment.

Lawmakers need to study full impact of laws

To the Editor:

I read with great interest the recent article on the new "volunteer fireman training requirements." I have no doubt that the concept of having our firefighters trained to a higher level sounds good to the policy makers in Jackson.

The P&H has maintained the property is needed for future airport expansion.

Under the agreement, the school district agreed to build the much-needed middle school on 20 acres east of the Riccabono property but still adjacent to the high school.

Construction costs may actu- [illegible]

A governmental entity must prove in court a need to take property from private citizens, but P&H Executive Director Hal Walters admitted last week to the Sea Coast Echo the Commission has no immediate need for the Riccabono property. No hearing date has been set on that suit.

The agreement on Monday differs slightly from a compromise worked out last week between the supervisors, school district and the P&H. At that meeting, the supervisors, school board members and local attorney Ronnie Artigues Jr., who was representing the P&H, agreed that the Commission and the Supervisors would share in the cost of the road.

Artigues offered no guarantees, but only said he would present it to the Commission. However, minutes before the Commission meeting on Monday, one P&H official said the Port & Harbor was not represented at last week's meeting despite Artigues' presence.

The official insisted that no Commission member was notified or invited to the meeting, and repeated on at least two occasions the board was not represented.

When questioned about the presence of Artigues, the Port official refused comment.

When informed of the official's comments, Artigues responded, "That statement doesn't warrant a response."

Artigues did not attend Monday's meeting.

The final agreement came after two executive sessions by the Commission on Monday. Following the first executive session, which lasted 39 minutes, Commission attorney Robert Genin said after much research and following discussions with the state attorney general's office, he was of the legal opinion that state law prevented the P&H from participating in construction of a road for school use because the Commission did not own the property.

"We cannot participate with the Board of Supervisors and the school board with construc- [illegible] the plan [illegible] the Commission to agree to help build the road once the property was secured.

"We can wait," Randolph said. "You would have the authority then."

Walters then proposed each entity sharing one-third of the cost, which may exceed $130,000, and the school district drop all litigation against the P&H. Shortly after Walters' suggestion, Genin whispered to Commission member Lou Hall [illegible]

[illegible] On Tuesday, [illegible] dropped all litigation against the school board.

Although the Riccabono property is 80 percent wetlands, Walters said the property is needed for future expansion of the airport.

The school board is negotiating a purchase price with the owners of the new site. That too may wind up in court.

Hoda said the FBI was involved because of Williams' taking stolen property across state lines.

Officers from the HCSO, Mississippi Highway Patrol, Bay St. Louis Police Department, Louisiana State Police and the Pearl River (La.) Police Department responded.

"We had a number of units responding," Hoda said. "We appreciate all of those officers who helped us in the pursuit."

Arbor Day tree planting

Please join the Bay-Waveland Garden Club in celebrating its 60th anniversary by planting trees to honor some of the women and men who have been very important to the club and to the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and to Hancock County.

The trees will be planted at 2:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 12 at the Magnolia Memorial Rest Area, originally dedicated in 1952 and recently taken up as an ongoing garden club project on (old) Hwy. 90.

Southern Magnolias will honor Mrs. A. J. Dantagnon, Elda Duke, Mrs. W. W. Baltar and Mrs. Walter Hava. An Ashe Magnolia and a Bigleaf Magnolia will be planted to honor John R. Newkirk and John F. Holmes.

Ed and Virginia Larroux will be honored with a Magnolia Fucata planted in their memory.

A Musclewood tree will be planted to honor the hard work of Sam Bailey of Pearlington and James Kaihatu of Bay St. Louis.

Sale delayed

Casino Magic officials are promising a decision "no later than next week" on Grand Casino's $328 million buy-out offer.

Vice president and general counsel Robert Callaway declined to comment on reports that there was another bidder for Casino Magic, which operates in Biloxi, Bay St. Louis, Bossier City and has a limited ownership of two casinos in Argentina.

If the buyout by Grand Casinos is eventually achieved, that company would control about 50 percent of the slot machines and table games on the Mississippi Coast.

Valentine Tea set

St. Monica Silver Valentine Tea is scheduled for Feb. 13, 3-5 p.m., 709 East Scenic Drive in Pass Christian.

The home was built in the 1850's by the Legendre family of New Orleans. It was remodeled in the early 20th Century. The home was purchased by the Warren Farnses of New Orleans after Hurricane Camille.

The tea originated in 1930 when the late Mrs. H. R. Kilpatrick of the Pink Cottage gave a tea honoring the memory of her mother, Lelia Abby French of Natchez and Pass Christian.

Proceeds from the tea were channeled through St. Monica Guild of Trinity Episcopal Church for church and community-related projects.

Each succeeding year the tea has been given in February on the Friday closest to Valentine's Day.

This year the location of the tea will be the beautiful plantation home of the Farnses.

The roots of St. Monica go deep. They were planted in the early 1850's by members of the Ladies Aid and Sewing Circle. Largely through the efforts of these ladies, Trinity Church was built in 1848-1849.

By the turn of the century a rectory was built. St. Monica was remembered as the Mother of St. Augustine [illegible] owners who have land to sell in the buffer zone.

District 3 Supervisor Lisa Cowand also wants the District to discuss a regional solution, with perhaps a partnership between Harrison, Pearl River or Stone counties.

She said the need for counties to work together was greater now that Harrison County supervisors have taken steps to restrict landfill expansion to the northern part of that county.

Waste Management of Mississippi Inc., which operates the Pecan Grove landfill off Menge Avenue, announced last week it plans to file suit, contending supervisors can't legally stop expansion.

The District also accepted a low bid from Waste Management to continue taking the county's household garbage to Pecan Grove for two more years with two one-year options to renew.

The charge to the county would amount to a raise in prices of less than two percent. Waste Management agreed to continue the contract at $20.75 a ton and to include Diamondhead in the contract once its current contract expires. The bid price last time was $20.48 a ton.

Favre also reacted to concerns brought up at last week's Bay City Council meeting that the District was now operating [illegible] check [illegible] to be less than $4,000 and is a temporary one.

He said the county and the two cities would be asked to come up with a temporary contribution to make up for the lag in cash receipts.

District Attorney Lucien Gex reported that all three entities have agreed to form a regional solid waste authority and after it makes up its property advertised, it must pass approval of the [illegible]

[illegible] authority could purchase or eminent domain land, which the District did not have power to do.

Fouls prove costly to Tigers in [illegible]

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws held off pesky Bay High Tigers Friday night to win the annual Mayor's Cup game and round out the regular season district schedule. The Rocks won 65-53 to claim the trophy for the sixth time in seven years.

The win was also SSC's eighth in the last nine games. SSC improved to 14-11 heading into its final game of the season against Pascagoula on Friday. The record includes a 73-55 win over Mercy Cross on Saturday when the Rocks celebrated senior night.

The game elapsed two minutes before one of the teams hit the scoreboard. Junior Davis of Stanislaus nailed a three-pointer with 6:01 remaining in the first period to start the scoring. That's all the scoring the Rocks needed as they never trailed.

The Rocks led by as many as 10 points in the first behind the scoring of Davis, who scored seven points in the opening stanza.

Stevie Lizana of Bay High cut the Rocks lead to nine points at 13-4 by sinking one of two charity shots with five seconds left in the opening period.

The Tigers came out in the second period with comeback on their minds. The Tigers pulled to within a point at 20-19 on Herman Dunklin's layup with 3:09 left in the first half. However, the Rocks surged to a nine point lead by halftime as the Rocks scored 10 points, interrupted only by Tank Williams' layup with 2:30 remaining. The Tigers then went scoreless the remainder of the half. The halftime score was 30-21.

Things began to crumble for the Tigers in the second half but not before Bay High cut the SSC lead to five points on a three-pointer by Mark Price at the 5:12 mark of the third period. After that it was all Rock-a-chaws. SSC opened up a 46-32 lead going into the final period.

The Rocks kept the Tigers at bay during the final period. SSC harassed Bay High with its passing game offense and watched as Bay High committed 11 fouls in the last period alone, including a technical foul on the bench as Reion Galloway kicked the water bottles onto the playing floor after fouling out of the game. The Tigers tallied 27 fouls in the game.

In the last two meetings between the schools, there have been five technical fouls called, all against Bay High.

During the foul-plagued fourth period, Bay High had three starters fouled out of the game.

Coach Doug Bazzell stated, "We did not play well in the first half. We didn't get as many shots at the foul line as we would have liked. SSC shot the ball real well and they have been the last few games. Plus, our defense was not aggressive tonight."

"SSC did not give us any new wrinkles tonight. (Stanislaus) has four kids that can handle the ball well and can shoot. It was hard for us to make adjustments and we got into foul trouble early on. It was a big game tonight and we needed to make our shots and get to the foul line and we didn't."

Coach Jay Ladner of SSC commented, "Bay High is a very talented team and they came after us and kept coming. I think our defense and rebounding was the key tonight. We gave a good effort in those categories."

"When we implemented our passing game offense it matched us up better. We gave up about four inches at each position when the game started. The one thing we did not count on was how well Tank Williams shot the 15-16 footer tonight. It caused some problems guarding him."

"Our crowd here at the game was great. It brought back memories of the old crowds that used to cram in here."

Davis led the Rocks with a game high 18 points followed by Derek Bradley with 16 points and Paul Farve with 10 points. Galloway led Bay High with 10 points.

The MVP for SSC was Derek Bardley and the Bay High MVP was Ronald Brown.

Bay High has two games left in the regular season against Stone County and Pass Christian. The game against Pass Christian will be senior night for the Tigers.

In the [illegible] game of the Mayor's Cup, the Rocks downed the Tigers 57-51. Jason Santiago led SSC with [illegible] points while Aaron [illegible] respectively for the Tigers.

PRCC eyes regular season finale

Pearl River Community College's men's and women's basketball teams target their 1998 regular season finales this Thursday against South Division rival Jones on the road.

Monday, PRCC's units swept Delgado Community College in New Orleans, with the men pounding their hosts 106-89, while the women recorded a 66-60 overtime win.

Last Thursday, Pearl River ended its 1998 home schedule with wins over Southwest. The Wildcats nipped the powerful Bears 96-93, while the women opened the night's action with a lopsided 96-74 victory.

The Wildcats, 20-4 overall, 9-2 in the Division, hope to seal the south's No. 1 spot in Ellisville Thursday heading into next week's South Division Tournament in M. R. White Coliseum on the PRCC campus in Poplarville.

PRCC's men hold a 1-game lead over No. 2 Southwest (19-5, 8-3), while Mississippi Gulf Coast is No. 3 at 19-6, 8-4.

The Lady Wildcats are 15-7 and 8-3 and are in a 3-way tie for first place with Jones (18-4 overall) and Copiah-Lincoln (18-5 overall). A win Thursday over Jones would insure at least a tie for first in the division.

In men's action against Southwest, Pearl River held a 47-36 lead at the half, then pushed the score to 89-79 with just over 4 minutes left in the game. But Southwest went on a 10-3 run and pulled within 3 — 92-89 — at the 2 mark on a 3-point play by Brian Webb.

Two Wildcat turnovers in the final minute resulted in 3 points for the visiting Bears and things were 94-93 with only 20 seconds left. PRCC sophomore point guard Todd Daniels of Foxworth (West Marion) sank 2 free throws at the 17 second mark to ice the 3-point victory.

Wylie Kirby paced The River with 25 points, while his prep teammate out of McKinley High School added 21, including 3 treys. Daniels finished with 17 points and 9 assists, Marcus Mackey 14 and team-high 11 rebounds, Jason Revies 9, Chris Hathorn 4, Nate Williams 4 points (7 boards), and Teddy Poole 2.

From the foul line, Pearl River was 20 of 27 (74 percent), while Southwest hit a nifty 87 percent (20 of 23).

Against Delgado, PRCC led by 8 — 60-52 — at the half, but took the second half 56-47 to ice its 20 victory of the 1998 season.

Kirby hit a double-double, netting a game-high 26 points and hauling in a team-high 11 rebounds, while Robinson added 26 points.

Revies had 18 points and 8 rebounds, while Daniels had 16, 9 boards and 12 assists. Williams had 9 points and 10 boards, while Mackey scored 4, Chad Jones 3, Mynelious Magee 2, Hathorn 2, Danny Lucas 2, and Jeremiah Branch 1.

In women's action against Southwest, PRCC led 20-8 midway in the first half but SWCC battled back to pull within 8 — 49-41 — at the half. The Lady Wildcats started pulling way out front midway into the second half.

In the last 12 minutes of the game, PRCC's women saw a 32-22 margin to ice the 20-point victory.

Jessica Shanklin led PRCC with 20 pints, while Punkin Byrd added 18, Norma Noel 15, Jasmine Baldwin 14, April Wilson 12, Alania Pendarvis 10, Collette Sibley 4, Jana Jenkins 2, Missy Wheat 2, and Tammy Swain 2.

From the foul line, PRCC was 27 of 42 (64 percent), while SWCC was 14 of 26 (54 percent).

Against Delgado, the Lady Wildcats trailed 35-34 at intermission, but edged their hosts 24-23 in the second half to deadlock things at 58 at the end of regulation. PRCC's women took the overtime period 8-2 to record their 15th win of the season.

Noel paced PRCC with a game-high 29 points, while Byrd added 17, Shanklin and Wilson 8 each, and Pendarvis and Baldwin 2 each.

The 1998 men's and women's State Tournament is set for Feb. 23-24 at the home court of the North Division men's winner, while the Region 23 Tournament is set for March 2-5 on the campus of Mississippi College in Clinton.

OLA [illegible] Lady Greyhounds, 5-1; SSC, Lady Tigers lose in playoffs

BY RANDY PONDER

Our Lady Academy handed the Lady Greyhounds their only loss of the season, ending their championship hopes with a convincing 5-1 win over Ocean Springs Tuesday night in the second round of the state high school soccer playoffs.

"Everything just clicked," OLA coach Karen Hunt stated. "We played well together all year, and tonight it all came together. Everybody knew what everybody else was doing."

With the wind at their backs, the Crescents scored three first-half goals. "It was working for us and against them," Hunt said. Even without the wind in the second half, OLA managed to score two additional goals.

"We were really up for this game. The girls had it in their hearts to win this game, and they did," Hunt added.

OLA, with a total enrollment of less than 200 and rated 2A, competes against much larger, 4A and 5A, schools all season. In spite of this, the Crescents have still managed to reach the state playoffs each of the past three years. Prior to that, there were no girl soccer playoffs. "When you play up, you get better."

"For us to get this far, you really have to look at this team and say 'wow'," Hunt added. "We've gone against the odds. These girls have heart and determination."

Kristin Cannon scored twice for the Crescents against Ocean Springs. Leslie Esher, Ashley Chrisman and Julie Reboul also scored as OLA improved to 18-4 on the season and advanced to the semifinals Friday in Jackson against the Meridian Lady Wildcats. The game is scheduled for 6 p.m. at Clinton High School.

Meridian, 15-6, beat Oak Grove 2-0 Tuesday night and the Bay High Lady Tigers 2-1 last Saturday to reach the semifinals.

OLA opened the playoffs with a 7-2 win over North East Lauderdale last Saturday at Rockachaw Stadium. Leslie Esher led the point parade with [illegible] goals, followed by Kristin [illegible] with two and Emily Meyers with one.

Clinton 3, SSC 0

"They wore us down, kept coming at us with fresh legs," St. Stanislaus coach Andy Kivlan said after his team fell to the defending Class I state champion Clinton Arrows 3-0 Tuesday in the second round of the state soccer playoffs.

"We hung with them as long as we could. Our defense played all 80 minutes," Kivlan added.

Clinton set the pace early, pressuring the Rockachaw goal with numerous shots. With a strong wind at their back, the Arrows demonstrated their superior passing ability crossing the ball from player to player, driving to the net only to be turned away at the last moment by great individual efforts by keeper Neil Favre and the other Rock defenders.

St. Stanislaus held Clinton to a scoreless first half tie, shutting down the Arrows' big scoring threat, Clint Farrar, (28 goals).

That changed at the 10-minute mark of the second half when Farrar collected a corner kick and hammered it home. Five minutes later Jay Stewart scored off another corner kick. [illegible] gave the Arrows their third goal a few minutes later on yet another corner kick.

"We just couldn't get the ball outside and cross down deep like we have done all season," Kivlan explained.

Clinton coach Hugh Christian said, "St. Stanislaus has a fine soccer tradition and is a strong, physical team. They face tough competition here on the Coast. You know they can play."

St. Stanislaus, the Class II state champions the past two seasons, were moved up to Class I this year. "No one expected us to do anything when they moved us up," Kivlan said. "We proved them wrong by reaching the playoffs and winning the first round. I'm looking forward to next year. This is were we want to be, playing with the best."

Clinton has posted a 21-0 record heading into the semifinals and has allowed only seven goals against them all year.

Meridian girls 2, Bay High girls 1

The Bay High Lady Tigers fell to the Lady Wildcats 2-1 in the opening round of the state high school soccer playoffs Saturday in Meridian.

"I'm real proud of this team," coach Ken Matthew said. "The fact that we made it this far is remarkable. We had only five starters return from last year. And we had three eighth graders starting."

Ramey Rush scored for Meridian just before halftime and Michell Ray connected about 10 minutes into the second half to give Meridian a 2-0 advantage.

"This was a really close game," Matthew said after the contest. "They beat us to the ball too many times. They were well prepared, had their passing game working and played a [illegible] physical game. Both teams played smart ball. It [illegible] went either way."

Lady Wildcat coach Pat Ross said, "Bay High is a well-coached team, they play hard and always have a great team. We knew they would be ready to play. We had to out-hussle them, beat them to the ball."

The Lady Tigers finish the season with a record of 11-5. The Lady Tigers had eliminated Meridian the last two years in the playoffs. Last season, they edged the Lady Wildcats in a shootout. Bay High then suffered their only setback of the season, a 2-1 heartbreaker in the semi-finals to eventual state champion Clinton Lady Arrows to finish with a record of 17-1-2. The prior year, the Lady Tigers reached the state championship game.

SSC 4, Meridian 2

The St. Stanislaus Rockachaws downed the Meridian Wildcats 4-2 in the first round of the state soccer playoffs Saturday.

The Rocks scored three times in the first half and totally dominated play at Meridian High School.

On each of the Rockachaw goals, the team took advantage of the aggressive play of the Wildcat goalie who would come way out of the box to challenge the St. Stanislaus forwards.

On their first goal, about mid-way through the first half, A.J. Pace tapped the ball into the open net after the Meridian keeper unsuccessfully tried to charge out to stop an offensive drive.

Moments later, St. Stanislaus struck again. This time the Meridian goalie ran out to kick the ball away and had it go off the side of his foot back towards his own goal. Chris Genin was there to softly tap the ball into the abandoned net.

Phillippi Michel scored for the Rocks just before halftime. As he charged towards the goal, the Meridian keeper again came out to meet him. His shot sailed past the goalie and into the left side of the net.

The second half started with two corner kicks for Meridian. St. Stanislaus keeper Neil Farve stopped both of those threats by jumping high into the air, grabbing the ball before anyone could head it into the net.

The Wildcats cut the lead to 3-1 when a defender slipped, leaving a Meridian player wide open about 20 yards out. His hard, line drive kick just eluded the Rockachaw keeper.

St. Stanislaus quickly countered with their forth goal on a free kick. Again, the Meridian keeper was out of position and the Rocks capitalized with Pace again getting the easy goal.

Meridian scored on a penalty kick right at the end of the game, making the final score of 4-2 look closer than the game really was.

John Rich, Justin Wadsworth and Pace each had an assist for the 18-4 Rocks.

"I think the three goals in the first half took the wind out of their sails," St. Stanislaus coach Andy Kivlan said after the game. "They didn't expect that from us. It set them back on their heels."

"We also shut down their big scorer. Jimmy Saucier did a great job of defending against him. This was a real physical game. They have an excellent team, we just kept pressuring the ball."

The Oaks Golf Course ready for unveiling

With 65 feet of naturally occurring elevation change, the Gulf Coast's newest golf course is sure to surprise players when it opens.

The Oaks is scheduled to open Feb. 14, according to project director Joel Gann of Landmark National, developer of the par-72 layout that measures 6,885 yards from the back tees. Situated within a 400-acre gated residential community of the same name, The Oaks is located just south of I-10 on Menge Avenue, 12 miles west of Gulfport and approximately 65 miles east of New Orleans.

Course designers Chris Cole and Stephen Caplinger created The Oaks from dense forests of pines and live oaks, freshwater wetlands and the dramatic topography so uncharacteristic of this otherwise flat portion of Gulf coastline.

As writer Bo Lindsay noted in an article for Gulf Coast Casino News, "It is unlike any course on the Coast . . . With 65 feet of elevation change through the course, you will be surprised that this does not look like the Coast."

"We were very fortunate to have a site with such dramatic natural roll," said Cole, director of golf for Landmark National "We were able to build a traditional, old-fashioned-style golf course that has a very natural look because we didn't have to manufacture anything. We moved very little dirt in building this course which, I believe, is going to give the course a look of maturity not seen on many new golf courses."

Because the golf course was routed before the remainder of the land plan was determined, Cole and Caplinger were able to take maximum advantage of the site's topography, streams and wetlands and other natural features.

As Caplinger, Landmark's director of design and planning, put it, "We put golf where golf worked best. We simply went out and found 18 holes that were already there."

Writers and critics who have previewed the new course agree with the designers' assessment. Lindsay wrote, "The course has a very traditional look to it and many remind you of other great courses, such as Pinehurst No. 2. This is not by coincidence."

In announcing the project nearly a year ago, Cole said he hoped to incorporate elements of two of his favorite architects — Donald Ross and Seth Raynor — in the design of The Oaks.

"Two of my favorite courses in all of golf are Pinehurst No. 2 and Yeaman's Hall. When I dream about what this course is ultimately going to look like, images of those two courses come to mind," he had said.

"The topography and the tall pines on this site remind me of the Sandhills around Pinehurst, but we also have the live oaks and the marsh savannas and wetlands, like the Charleston area. So we feel we have a piece of land that lends itself to that style. It's our job to create a golf course that capitalizes on the natural beauty of the site.

The Oaks is the second course designed by Cole and Caplinger. Their first layout, the South Padre Island (Texas) Golf Club opened last spring, and in December hosted the Texas Senior Open, earning praise from players and Texas PGA officials alike.

Tournament champion Dwight Nevil, whose two PGA Tour victories came in Mississippi at the Magnolia Classic in Hattiesburg in 1973 and '74, called South Padre "a great course. I have not heard one pro say one negative thing about this course all week. It's got a real solid layout."

Senior PGA Tour regular John Paul Cain added, "It's a very, very fine golf course. Give its year to mature, and it will be the showplace of the whole (Rio Grande) Valley."

Prior to designing the South Padre course, Cole worked with several name architects during his 17 years with Landmark Land Company. During that time, he served in several gold and senior managerial capacities at such properties as Oak Tree Golf Club in Edmond, Okla., Palm Beach (Fla.) Polo and Country Club and Kiawah Island (S.C.) Resort.

He also served as chairman of several major golf tournaments, including the 1991 Ryder Cup Matches at Kiawah Island and the 1988 PGA championship and 1984 U.S. Amateur, both at Oak Tree. Cole holds a degree in general administration from Oklahoma State, where he earned All-America honors as a member of the Cowboys' golf team.

Capinger earned his degree in landscape architecture from LSU. Prior to becoming the director of design and planning for Landmark National, he held the same position with Landmark Land for more than 10 years. Among his credits, he was project planner for the Louisiana World Exposition, in addition to completing projects in Italy, Honduras and Mexico.

As part of the overall $12 million gated community, Landmark National will develop approximately 250 acres for residential use. Homes in The Oaks are expected to be priced from [illegible] Caplinger.

Homeowners will enjoy use of [illegible]

Architectural restrictions will ensure that homes within The Oaks feature traditional Gulf Coast styling. A white rail fence around the property's Menge Avenue boundary will contribute further to the traditional Old South look.

Landmark National, based in new Albany, Ohio, specializes in golf and real estate investment, development and management. The company was founded in 1993 by Gerald Barton, former chairman and CEO of Landmark Land Company, Inc., along with a team of executives formerly associated with Landmark Land.

Under the Landmark banner, the company has developed nearly 30 golf courses and 13 residential communities, including PGA West and LaQuinta in California. Palm Beach Polo Club in Florida and Kiawah Island Resort near Charleston, S.C.

'Mr. Las Vegas' returns to Grand

Wayne Newton made a name for himself in the entertainment arena before Elvis Presley was a star and the Beatles left Liverpool. In a business where success can be short-lived, Newton has appeared live to more than 30 million people.

His appearances on television and his many records have reached audiences many times that number. Newton will take canter stage at the Biloxi Grand Theatre Feb. 19 and 20, 7:30 p.m.

By the age of six, Newton was playing the piano, guitar and stell guitar and was doing a daily local radio show. Toward the end of his junior year in high school, a Las Vegas booking agent saw Netwon on a local television and took him back for an audition. A two-week tryout turned into a 46-week job and Wayne Newton had a foothold on Las Vegas.

Receiving one of the highest honors in Las Vegas, Wayne Newton is one of only two people to receive the city's Medal of Honor and was named Ambassador of Goodwill for the state. Vegas' McCarren International Airport's main thoroughfare was renamed Wayne Newton Boulevard.

Newton has endeared himself to his audiences and sets attendance records every time he steps on stage. His appearances in movies and television has made his profile higher than ever. Some of his film acting credits include "Vegas Vacation" with Chevy Chase, and the James Bond thriller "License to Kill."

His television appearances include the miniseries "North and South, Book II," "Rosanne," "Ellen," "The Fresh Prince of Bel Air," and Drew Carey's HBO special "Ms. Las Vegas," as well as numerous talk shows.

Among Newton's greatest hits are "Heart," "Danke Schoen," "Red Roses for a Blue Lady," and "Daddy, Don't You Walk So Fast." Wayne Newton performs Feb. 19 and 20 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are now on sale at the Biloxi Grand Theatre and at all TicketMaster outlets.

Ticket prices are $30/floor and $25/balcony.

Laurel man wins $1,535,739 at Grand Casino Gulfport

Laurel resident Willie Posey came to spend some time this weekend on the Coast and at Grand Casino Gulfport. A surprised Posey returned to his hometown on Sunday, Feb. 8, a much richer man after winning $1,535,739 on the Quartermania Progressive slot machines at Grand Casino Gulfport.

On Sunday morning, around 3 a.m., Mississippi native Posey hit the jackpot after playing on the Quartermania Progressive slot machine for about 10 minutes. His $9.25 investment paid well, although Posey at first thought he had won only $1,900.

It took a few minutes before he realized that he had hit the jackpot really big. Asked about his good fortune, Posey said, "Always carry your pet rock with you! It's my good luck charm."

Posey, a team coordinator of the Masonite Corporation in Laurel, had plans to marry his finance Joyce Carmichael later, but his winning the Quartermania jackpot has pushed up he date a little. He and Carmichael will marry before the week is over. Said Posey, "A few friends gave me some good advice — get a good lawyer, and don't forget Got — so, I praised God!"
